

Riskiest mode of transportation Plays major role in economical growth

Factors contribute to flight delays concerned about profitablility

Needs tool to identify trends

Requires effective visualisation

Any specific region where demand for flights increasing

Seasonal flight demands

Tracking air routes

passengers

Strategies to improve airline services

Offer convenient and fast services of transport

Visualising air routes in graph

Feeling excited

Easier to understand

Predicting weather and acts accordingly

Extracting data to process large datasets

Being able to at ease

Anxious about working with outdated data

Being cost effective

Increases the pollution

What behavior have we observed? What can we imagine them doing?

Does

What are their fears, frustrations, and anxieties? What other feelings might influence their behavior?

